THE common remark of everymen who visits this city is that we city in the State is growing as rapidly as San Antonio.

The public spurseines the Littlet in its new form, judging from the large additional made to our subscription list the past few days.

SENATUR VANCE, of North Carolina, says:
"That a close study of the best newspapers has taught him the art of expressing himself briefly and tenely, without repetition or circumplantine."

SEVERAL of the Arkaness editors, during their late trip through this State, fell in love with it, and are now trying to sell out with a view of hearing in Team, and the Falentine News kindly invites them to come along and being that knitten.

True Galveston Frint has the following to any about the German jointon of our citizens: "Among the population which has been added to the State since stree, more have added to the State since street, and was a street, and any street, and supplies the street of the country than the Germans. Go where you may, lo say part of the State where any considerable number of Germans are residing, and you will invariably find prosperity and plenty. While this is true regarding their industry and fragality, fully as much may be add for them a citizens and members of society. No more law-additing and peace laring people can be found in the State, this much the Print area say for them without dispressessors as any other nationalizat. Teams about it make an effort to secure German monigrants."

The Sonday Law.

The Sanday Law.

We take the following from an article in the Ago Examiner, sport the subject of the Sunare law.

We take the following from an article in the Wang Examiner upon the subject of the Sunday law:

The Sunday law is the one statute that in purely local in its operations, that may be enforced here or violated there. One man lacks it in the skins, another three is my renny. Officers in one community are realous to enforce it. In number, perhaps not go miles distant, the officer with at violations, and positively decline to arrest offenders. We repeat that there is a radical defect in a regulation that operates, or fails to operate, after this fashion. We have never yet found a man who deniest the propriety and pastice of a Sanday law of some kind, but pick to men at random and five of the ro will demande this particular Sunday law. The key to this offeredly of sentiment is to be found in the fact that this status trenches very largely, or some believe toors, upon mitivitual and religious theory, With many men this is a tendenter point than their products. It is may wonfer the yorkets and grew indignant? The law is no drawing one dipolitic sequity and individual rights. In a modified form it would be obeyed.
